President's Report

Summer is quickly approaching. That means that we are thinking of all the things we want to do - go to the pool, play sports, go to summer camp, take walks, read a book, take a vacation.... The list of things we look forward to seems endless. But once the summer starts, it seems to go by quickly. Rarely can we seem to fit in everything we want to do. Among all the wonderful things you have planned, please try to squeeze in some time for your friends at Sinai. An advertisement once said "We'll keep the lights on for you." Sinai's office is still open during the summer. Our gift shop is open when needed. The library is available as well. And religious services continue throughout the summer, even when Rabbi Alan is at camp or on vacation.

I know many of you attended the annual meeting. The ice cream social was a huge success. Although we covered a lot of issues at the meeting, we concluded in a record time of about 45 minutes! At the meeting, I mentioned many of the things that we are working on for the fall including the Sinai Temple Cookbook (please contribute recipes) and a Temple-wide Game Night (if you want to help plan it, let me know). I also described the process we are using for the Educator search. I am pleased to announce the members of the search committee: Gary Bernstein and Elizabeth Hess (co-chairs), Richard Akresh, Christie Avgar, Laura Bleill, Natalie Frankenberg, Darin Henigman, Micah Heumann, Judy Kaplan, and Cheryl Silver. It is a large committee but I wanted to make sure that as many parents with kids in the religious school have a voice in the process. Feel free to contact me or committee members with your thoughts on the process.

During the summer months, the Board of Trustees and committees start to plan for the fall: social events, social action programs, fundraisers, the High Holidays, etc. I will soon be appointing, or re-appointing, chairs of committees. Please get involved. We do not have a large full-time staff so volunteers are needed to make programming a success. If you want to get involved in a committee or a specific program and do not know who to contact, please contact me.

Sinai produces a June/July bulletin which gives me a break from bulletin-writing for at least one month! We have taken two steps recently to make the bulletin as informative as possible: we encourage you to send in good news for our column "mazel tov" and by buying ads for your business or other events. Have a wonderful summer!

Randy Rosenbaum

During June and July, the Sinai Temple office will be open from 10:00 AM - 4:00 PM, Monday thru Friday.

The Sinai Temple Office will be closed Wednesday, June 4th, and Thursday, June 5th, in observance of Shavuot. The Sinai Temple Office will also be closed Friday, July 4th in observance of Independence Day.

“Bees’ll buzz,
Kids’ll blow dandelion fuzz,
And I’ll be doing whatever snow does,
In summer”

Those in a certain age bracket (or with kids in a certain age bracket) will recognize these words as coming from the song sung by Olaf the snowman in last year’s hit movie, “Frozen.” Though my summer plans differ a bit from Olaf’s, I can assure you that there is plenty going on during the summer months. School may be out, but the activity continues apace through June and July. Allow me to share with you a few highlights:

On Tuesday, June 3, at 7 PM, we will celebrate the confirmation of 14 wonderful students. It has been a great pleasure for me to work with my co-teacher Dana Cohen and to study with these fine young people who represent some of the future leadership of our congregation. Our topics of study have included the Holocaust, Israel, issues of social justice, and comparative Judaism and theology. At the service, the students will recount some of their experiences, lead the congregation in worship, and read from the Ten Commandments and the Book of Ruth as we usher in the festival of Shavuot. All are invited to attend. We’ll have another opportunity to commemorate Shavuot on June 5 at 10 AM when the Traditional Egalitarian Minyan leads us in worship and yizkor services.

At the end of June, I am looking forward to spending time on the faculty of the Olin-Sang-Ruby Union Institute (OSRUI). More than a dozen children from Sinai Temple are attending camp at OSRUI, and more than forty of our students will have a Jewish summer camp experience at one of the many other regional camps. Others will enroll in our own “Summer at Sinai” program, details about registration and staffing can be found elsewhere in this bulletin. We are proud that our young people have chosen to spend their summer in this way; demographic studies repeatedly show that time spent at a Jewish summer camp serves to preserve Jewish identity into adulthood more significantly than virtually any other Jewish experience. On Friday, June 6, we will have a special “Camp Send-off Shabbat” to celebrate all of the students who are spending time away from home this summer. This special service will begin at 7 PM and include familiar camp melodies and a blessing for all of our campers.

Also on June 6, we will have a special oneg following services in celebration of Stephanie Pregent. As you know, Stephanie will not be continuing as our educator in the fall. We are grateful to her for more than nine years of service in our school. We celebrate her dedication and passion, and we wish her luck in all of her future endeavors.

During the summer, we will be gearing up for the coming school year. As always, we seek to find the most dynamic, engaging, and dedicated teachers who can work with our students. Is there an area of Jewish life in which you have expertise or passion? From Hebrew to Israel to Ethics to Social Justice, many of these interests lie at the core of our curriculum. If you are interested in being considered for a teaching position, please contact the Temple office.

As summer unfolds, I recognize that the High Holidays will be just around the corner. I will be working to prepare my sermons and remarks, and to design meaningful and uplifting worship experiences. During the holidays, we call on a number of congregants to assist with English readings; if you’d be interested in taking part in one of the services this year, please contact me.

Lastly, as temperatures during the summer can be extreme, please look out for yourselves and others. Please don’t leave children or pets in hot cars unattended, protect yourselves from the sun, and stay hydrated. Consider checking in on friends and neighbors from time to time to see how they are faring in the heat. And please think about the less fortunate in our community who may not have adequate resources to shield themselves from the elements. You can pick up “mitzvah bags” and “comfort bags” in the Temple foyer, which are designed to be distributed to the poor and homeless. Each bag contains either snack or toiletry items, meant to make the recipient’s day a bit easier. If you are travelling this summer, please consider bringing back to Temple any of the unused personal care items that you find in your hotel room. We will be able to distribute these in future Social Action efforts.

I wish you all the best for a relaxing and enjoyable summer, and safe travels wherever your destination may be.

B’shalom,

Alan Cook
