Sinai Temple's
Glaser Concert Weekend
October 23-25, 2015

We are honored to welcome Rabbi Deborah Zecher as our artist-in-residence for this year's Glaser concert weekend. Rabbi Zecher, an accomplished cabaret performer, is the rabbi emerita of Hevreh of Southern Berkshire. She has studied at the National Cabaret Conference at Yale University, and has been a student at Julliard. Rabbi Zecher's weekend will include her serving as a musician at Shabbat evening services, a cabaret concert called "Broadway Bible" on Saturday evening, and special sessions with our Religious School students on Sunday morning. We hope that you will plan to join us for these events. Sponsorship opportunities are available; please contact the Temple Office for details.

When we think of October, most likely the first thing that comes to mind is Halloween. One could hardly be blamed; the pumpkins and black cats and skeletons and witches and the like seem to adorn every store when the first of the month approaches (if not sooner). Some feel conflicted about Halloween because of its pagan roots, but I don't mind it as a respite from the dark and chill of the late fall. I find the ghouls and goblins that accompany the day to be a fun and fantastical retreat, and try not to be too frightened of them.

This echoes, to a degree, the teaching of Rabbi Nachman of Bratslav, who said, "The whole world is a narrow bridge; the most important part is not to be afraid." As many of you know, this was a favorite lesson of our rabbi emeritus, Isaac Neuman, who chose the image of the Narrow Bridge as the title of his biography. But I don't believe that Reb Nachman was telling us to seek a life without any fear. In Hebrew, the phrase is "lo l'fached k'lal," which I read as "do not be wholly afraid." Do not, in other words, allow fear to become an overreaching, paralyzing emotion that restricts you from taking action to better the world.

Many times, without realizing, we do just that. We create imaginary scenarios in our mind playing out how a new or uncomfortable situation might unfold. And we often let it prevent us from venturing beyond our comfort zones to explore new ventures.

Perhaps that's true in your relationship with Temple. Maybe you are comfortable in services, but have never explored our educational opportunities. Maybe your children are enrolled in Religious School, but you've never participated in any of our social events. Maybe you love getting together with your fellow Jews for meals and conversation, but have never considered volunteering on the board or a committee. Do not be wholly afraid! There are many areas of Temple that would be enriched by YOU getting involved.

On Rosh Hashanah, our president Gary Bernstein asked you to consider how your life would be different if Sinai Temple were not here. Now, we've stood the test of time as a Jewish home for East Central Illinois for more than 110 years, so we're not planning on going anywhere anytime soon. But it does take each of us, working together, to sustain the activities of the congregation we know and love. We have minimal staff here at Temple; besides Rabbi Jody and me, Kathy Douglas is our administrator and Roxanna Davison is our office assistant. Natalie Peterson, our part-time bookkeeper; and a part-time custodian round out our staff. We therefore rely upon you, our members, to supplement our staff time so that we can keep things humming. Volunteers set up the chairs that you sat in on the High Holidays. Volunteers cleared the ivy off the building and did planting to beautify our grounds. Volunteers changed the light bulbs and set the thermostats. Volunteers folded and labeled this very bulletin that you are reading to prepare it for mailing.

Rabbi Hillel taught in Pirke Avot (the Ethics of Our Ancestors, a tractate of the Mishnah full of rabbinic aphorisms), "Do not separate yourself from the community." In other words, when there is an opportunity to serve the community, we should not sit back and assume that others will fill that role on our behalf.

It's a new year. Consider new ways that you can get involved at Sinai Temple. Don't be wholly afraid of getting involved. Don't be spooked.

L'Shalom,

Rabbi Alan Cook

Every other year, the Union for Reform Judaism (URJ), with which Sinai Temple is affiliated, holds a Biennial Convention so that Jews from all over North America may come together to pray, learn, sing, and share community with one another. This year's conference will be held in Orlando, FL from November 4—8 and will feature speakers such as Anita Diamant, Nicholas Kristoff, and Ari Shavit. Sinai Temple is working to assemble a delegation to take advantage of slightly discounted registration rates. Please visit <http://urj.org/biennial> to find further information about the convention, and please contact Rabbi Alan if you are interested in joining our delegation.

What an exciting and busy time of the year! The building is buzzing with activity. It seems like we end a quiet summer with a super busy beginning to the fall and the new Jewish year. It is always great to see people in the building and generating excitement. Some of the many things that have been going on include:

Our religious school had a successful school registration event at the end of August. This was combined with a pancake breakfast fundraiser for our youth group (CUTY) organized by Rabbi Alan.

At the recommendation of several committees, an arborist came and cleared away many of the dead or dying trees in the Cohen garden and other areas around the building.

On Labor Day, we held our annual Labor of Love event. A special thanks to all the volunteers who came out to help our Temple look its best (both inside and out) for the High Holy days.

We had several wonderful Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur services. Our community Erev Rosh Hashanah service and our Reform services were led by Rabbi Alan with assistance from Martha Alwes and the choir; as well as Allison Fromm and the Shabbat Singers. Rob Ore blew the shofar. The Egalitarian Traditional Minyan also held services which were enriched by the participation of many lay leaders including Rosalind Weinberg, Lynn Wachtel and Gene Robinson who led services. Rob Silverman and Lee Melhado blew the shofar. A special thank you to all the readers and participants in all the services; as well as those that contributed to the oneg events and the break the fast.

Rabbi Jody and Jessica Kopolow organized a “Jewnior” Youth Experience this year. These services were designed to allow Kindergarten through 6th grade students to participate in an age appropriate holiday service and spend time engaged in activities that help them connect with the themes of the High Holy days. We thank them for arranging this new program.

We welcomed our newest students at the Consecration service. It is always great to see the kids excited about their religious education.

Both Hebrew and Religious school classes began. The building is now busy with activity on Sunday mornings. A new round of Adult Education classes has also begun on Sunday mornings. You are encouraged to stop by Temple to learn with Rabbi Alan and to support our school by shopping at the Sinai Café and the Temple Gift shop.

As we close out the month of September, we will have the opportunity to come together as a community to celebrate Sukkot. While October’s schedule is not as busy, there are still plenty of reasons to come to Sinai Temple to celebrate, volunteer, socialize and learn. Please watch your email and our website for the latest information.

SINAI TEMPLE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

September 10, 2015

- ✧ Rob O. made the Motion to approve the proposed minutes from the Aug. 2015 meeting. Carmen G. seconded the motion. All in Favor.
- ✧ Membership: There are 2 new member applications this month: 1. Lori Gordon and 2. David Scherba and Rebecca Swartz. All in Favor.
- ✧ There was discussion that we have hired off-duty officers to patrol the temple and its grounds during the High Holidays (per a vote last month).
- ✧ Rabbi Jody reported a successful registration day which was combined with a youth-sponsored pancake breakfast. She noted that all teachers have been hired and that she is on target with enrollment and tuition. She also is re-envisioning some Friday night services to further engage youth (such as a younger Shabbat Rocks at the same time as an older young-readers group)
- ✧ Building: Gary thanked the people who worked on Labor of Love, both on the grounds and inside the Temple. There was discussion about some water leakage in two of the classrooms near the small bathroom. We are waiting on some quotes.
- ✧ Personnel: Gary B. updated the board that our new custodian/maintenance person, Zig, has resigned. He was doing an excellent job for us, but was offered a higher paying job with benefits. There was discussion that we have hired a college student to help out for a few months while we consider the next course which includes talking to past applicants, re-advertising, and possibly splitting the position into two positions (maintenance and custodian).
- ✧ Sanctuary Renovation and Cohen Garden Prioritization: Gary is looking for some board members to be involved in reviewing the reports (and goals) from these two sub-committees and prioritizing the goals. The plan is that, after the group comes up with priorities, the board will discuss an action plan such as hiring architects/landscapers to give us bids for work.

NEXT DOR—Meaning “Next Generation” is a Shabbat experience for elementary school aged children, family members and friends. This creative service will feature different readings each month. This experience will give the “Next Dor” an opportunity to lead parts of the liturgy, experiment with music and movement during prayer and give early Hebrew and English readers a chance to participate in TEFILLAH (prayer) in an engaging and meaningful way.

Students who are interested in leading music should contact Rabbi Jody. This service will take place (in general) on the third Friday of each month. There will be a dinner before for all who are celebrating Shabbat and attending Shabbat Rocks! or Next Dor, as well as an oneg following services. Students are welcome to attend without parents if a parent is in the building (i.e. at Shabbat Rocks!) Children and parents are encouraged to attend the service that is most meaningful for the students!

We also added to the High Holy Day worship offerings this year by including a service for students in grades K-6. The services, held on Rosh Hashana and Yom Kippur, were a wonderful way for students in our school to connect to the liturgy and learn about the holidays with explanations and readings that are age appropriate and thought provoking. Creating a prayer community of all students (this is a “youth only” service) is unique and provides our youth with a wonderful venue in which they can consider the meaning of the holidays.

Our staff this year is wonderful—I am looking forward to seeing their talents and knowledge as they teach our children.

Ruth Morhaim

Electives/Chuggim

If you are interested in joining other members in our community by teaching an elective for the Religious School, please contact Rabbi Jody (educator@sinaitemplecu.org). If you are an “expert” in an area that is connected to Judaism (science, sports, famous people, genealogy, law, Israel, cooking, etc.) and you can dedicate 3 hours of time to teaching, our students would love to have the opportunity to learn from you!

Mazel Tov to our New students:

We welcomed the following students to Sinai Temple Religious School and recognized the beginning of their formal Jewish education.

Livia Avgar, Elianna Boucek, Shilo Boucek, Jacob Epstein, Shira Harkins, Brandon Hertz, Henry Neuwirth, Yael Scherba, Aaron Soloveychik, Malachi Sosnoff, Asher Tainsky, Taylor Thomassie, Asher Watson, Millie Wilson.

We also welcome several older students to our program and are excited to see each of these children learn and grow throughout the upcoming years!

WE LOVE OUR VOLUNTEERS

Where would we be without our volunteers? There are many people working behind the scenes contributing their time, energy and talents to the weekly tasks that keeps the Temple running smoothly. And we would like to give a BIG THANK YOU to everyone of you who volunteer for these essential tasks. We will be featuring different groups of volunteers each month in the bulletin.

We give a special thank you to Aaron Averbuch who modestly works behind the scenes recording Temple events, setting up audio visuals for B'nai Mitzvahs, meetings and concerts. Aaron also orders and mounts the name plates to the memorial plaque wall, and the tree of life. Thank you Aaron for your years of dedicated service to the Temple.

Thank you

Eastern Illinois Foodbank—Great Success!

The Social Actions Committee wishes to thank everyone for their generous contributions to the Eastern Illinois Food Bank this Yom Kippur.

Know that every can of food collected and every dollar given has greatly helped the less fortunate families in our community. And together we make a difference. Thank you.

Labor of Love—A Great Success!

Thank you to everyone who volunteered their time on Labor Day for a “labor of love” for their Temple. Leaves were raked and bagged, weeds pulled and gardens mulched, and inside the Temple major detailed cleaning took place, and chairs were set up for the High Holy Days. It was a beautiful, warm day, last day for the pools to be open, and your sacrifice and hard work is greatly appreciated by all your Temple family. Thank you.

New Member Spotlight: David Scherba & Rebecca Swartz

David Scherba and Rebecca Swartz have lived in Champaign-Urbana on and off for the past 15 years, since they started school here. David grew up in State College, Pennsylvania and Rebecca is from Skokie, Illinois. They have two children; Yael, who is 5 and Ari who is less than a year old.

David is a software engineer with Personify in Urbana. Rebecca will soon be an Early Learning Specialist with ECAP at the University of Illinois.

While they are already involved with the Egalitarian Traditional Minyan, their daughter is ready to begin Religious School, so they formally joined the Temple. Rebecca taught at Sinai Temple when she was an undergraduate student and will be teaching the Hand-in-Hand class this year.

Their favorite Jewish holiday is Sukkot, although they love their tradition of “whipping” friends and family with scallions while singing Dayenu during Passover.

In their leisure time, they enjoy spending time as a family, and they both love to read.
